The Babies Cry For It.

And the old folks laugh when they find that the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, is more easily taken and more beneficial in its action than bitter, nauseous medicines. It strengthens the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, and Bowels, while it arouses them to a healthy activity. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter, Agent.

Little Folks.

Little folks are generally very bright and wide awake. A great big dog was roaming about the yard muzzled, when a little girl rushed into the house in terror. Her sister, younger but more valiant, coolly surveyed the situation, and reassured her by saying, "He can't bite, he's got on his bustle." Although the little miss had a wrong impression of how to adjust the article in question, she was always right when she came down to Olcovich Bros., store, for whatever was wanted in the house. All should do the same.

For Groceries, Dry Goods, Shoes or Carpets, Underwear, Hats and Fancy Goods, go to Olcovich Bros., as the only place where best goods are offered at such low prices. j6.

Shaw Beats It.

An illustrated New York paper contains the cut of what it pronounces is "the largest plunge bath in the world." It is a marble bath connected with the Hammam baths of New York and is 50 feet long and 20 feet wide.
 This is not quite as wide or long as Shaw's plunge which is 60 feet long by 24 wide and filled all the year round with natural hot water.

THE WILDER COMEDY COMPANY.

An Organization Traveling on Business Principles.
 Mr. Wickham the advance agent of the Wilder Comedy Company called at the APPEAL office yesterday.

He gave some information about his company which is rather interesting.

"We have been three seasons now on the road and making money all the while playing at popular prices.

We charge three prices 20, 30 and 40 cents. This seems like a rather cheap show and a good many people do not come the first night because it is so cheap.

One performance however settles the question and we have crowded houses.

Then again the odd scale of prices cause everybody to talk about the show and that advertizes us.

In Virginia City we are billed for nine nights and we will have full houses all the while.
 We have a good company, by that I mean that any of the leading characters who have appeared the first night get a round of applause any time they come on the stage after that. They do not have their names billed in letters ten feet long nor do they get interviewed in the papers at a dollar a line, but the audiences they play to warm up to them at once.

We can play a week in almost any town and still get good houses. By staying a week in one place we save all together about $700 in traveling expenses, bill posters and advertising.

We have figured the whole thing down very carefully and find that we can clear a great deal more the way we are now playing than to charge a dollar a night, be on the road every other night losing time and being at expense.

In other words we are giving the public cheap theatrical entertainments with first class talent at 20 cents a head instead of giving them a third class fly-by-night company at a dollar. We have made the experiment and find it pays better every year.

Some companies play one big world renowned star and the rest are all sticks, because the star charges so much for his or her services that the manager cannot hire anything but a cheap company, and so the show is poor all through.

We have a good company all through, no world renowned stars and at the same time no poor sticks. Every one in our combination gets a good salary and gets it every Saturday night.

Instead of traveling all the while we play several nights in one place and the public gets the benefit instead of the railroads.

The Gnomometer.

There is a machine at Sweeney's saloon intended to test the strength of a man's grip, and one outside which registers the size of a blow a man can strike with a 50lb. mallet.

An Eastern chap is here with a machine to register the force of an old toper's breath.

He tried it here and found it wouldn't work, a few old sots breathed on the machine and the interior got so clogged up that it refused to perform its mechanical functions. The register did not run high enough for Carson.

A Damaging Rumor.

The Petaluma Courier accounts for the mysterious absence of Pete Olsen as follows: "It is rumored that the people of Napa county, living near the farm where Mrs. Lyons was murdered a year since, are generally arriving at the conclusion that her husband and not Olsen, was the murderer, and that he not only murdered his wife, but also killed Olsen and hid his body somewhere in the vicinity. It is said that Lyons was very jealous of his wife, and this is the supposed cause of what is now believed to be a double murder.

—Geo. T. Davis has just received some pure Maple Syrup of this year's run, soldered and sealed in the rock Maple groves of Vermont.

Try it on biscuit and hot cakes made of Pioneer flour.

Mr. Boles says the Glidden barb wire can not be broken by any fair tension. It is the best made.

G. T. Davis is the agent.

A COSELY RUNAWAY.

Sam Longabaugh's $1,000 Team said out.

Yesterday Sam Longabaugh left his team standing near the Mexican Dam, when a drove of sheep came over the hill and frightened the horses.

The team ran away into the river where one horse broke his neck and the other received such injuries that it will die.

The carriage was also broken to pieces. The team was valued at $1,000.

Attention Sportsmen.

Washoe Lake is covered with pelicans and sea gulls. Hy Downs was in town Saturday and informed us that he has been watching the pelicans through a powerful field glass and saw them start along the edge of the tules, and catch thousands of cat-fish and perch.

Ed. Harris was down to the little lake last week and killed five in one shot. He opened them and found the sack under the bill full of fish, the bones of some of the cat-fish were 14 inches long.

The sea gulls catch the small fish along the Eastern shore. With this combination, if the sporting men can't attend to it soon, the lake will in a short time be clear of fish.

The pelicans live in the tules from the old windmill to Franktown and can be easily got. A person can crawl up nearly close enough to kill them with a fishing pole. Hy says that there is about 5,000 of them and that they feed about five times a day and catch from five to eight every time they feed. At this rate it won't be long before the lake will have no fish in it.

These birds can easily be driven off, let the Carson sportsmen go to the South end of the lake with their shot guns, and the Storey county sportsmen to the North end and Franktown and Washoe City to the West side and kill as many as they can, and in a few days they will disappear.

It is too bad to see about the only sport we have in the way of fishing and so near home go to ruin by these birds.

The Sun Dogs.

The Signal Service reports say that the numerous halos or circles around the sun and the sun dog attachments that have been seen in the heavens for the last few days were precursors or forerunners of an approaching storm. To show that storms a long way off throw out fingers of warning in the shape of fine filaments of cirrus clouds in the upper stratum of air which are composed (the clouds are) of small spicular of ice, thus causing the halos or circles around the sun, and also "sun dogs," or "wreck suns," to appear by the reflection of the sun's rays. The storm that has caused this phenomenon is now approaching.

The reports at 4 A. M. show quite a low barometer, with cloudy and rainy weather extending from Olympia, Washington Territory, to Eureka, California. It was raining at that hour at Olympia, Portland, Roseburg and Eureka, while cloudy weather prevails as far south as Central California and east to Ogden.

A Fatal Dose.

N. B. Richmond, a well known sporting man throughout the mining camps of Eastern Nevada, met his death in Tuscarora early this morning, through a "shot" of morphine, administered by an acquaintance for the purpose of inducing sleep. Deceased had been drinking rather heavily for a few days past, and desiring to sober up, went to a cabin of a friend to endeavor to go to sleep, but being unable to do so without an opiate, the drug was injected and the dose proved fatal. Dr. McKee was summoned and for two or three hours applied all the remedies known to the medical profession, but they proved of no avail. Deceased was born near Syracuse, New York, aged 57 years, and leaves a sister in Sacramento. He came here from Eureka about six months ago.
